CULTURAL CONNECTIONS

1. Students can tell that greetings can be classified into two types. Honorific and regular. For example

(1) exchange greetings

A: 你好? B: 您好?

A: 早? B: 早上好?

(2) question-and-answer greetings

A: 你好吗? B: 很好!

A: 最近怎么样? B: 还好

A: 最近还好吗? B: 还不错!

2. Students can tell how Chinese names are different from English names.

(1) Chinese family/last names come first. Usually a last name only has one syllable. That the last name comes first reflects the Chinese culture's emphasis on the community and family over the individual.

(2) Chinese names have clear meanings.

A: 王美玉; 王 means king; 美 means beauty; 玉 means jade.

(3) There are different ways to ask names. When asking an older person or a person in a higher position their name, a student should say 您贵姓? not 你姓什么?

3. Students understand the appropriate way to ask people's ages . 您多大, 你多大

4. Students understand that dates are expressed/sequenced differently in Chinese (year month day) than how they are expressed in English (day month year).
